

The Editor of Journal of Infrastructure Development invites submissions whose subject matter falls within the journal's aims and scope.

As the official journal of India Development Foundation (Gurgaon), Journal of Infrastructure Development is a bi-annual peer-reviewed journal which has been at the cutting edge of debate on ideas in the infrastructure sector. The journal is dedicated to the expansion of the horizon of knowledge and to the development of deeper policy insights into wide ranging issues relating to the development of infrastructure which are critical for the running and governance of a modern developing or developed economy. Furthermore, the journal welcomes articles covering all major areas of the subject, but specially on the issues of development of energy, transport, communication, urban infrastructure, roads and highways, sea ports and airports, irrigation, waste disposal, climate change and its control, and finally, human adaptations to such changes.

Five key reasons to publish in Journal of Infrastructure Development:

- The journal provides a platform for healthy trade and debate regarding new ideas in the infrastructure sector in India and in other countries in the world
- A policy journal deals with issues that are of immediate relevance in the area of infrastructure (physical, social, economic and financial)
- Publication in print and online via the award winning SAGE Journals online platform will ensure maximum visibility and discoverability of your work
- Your article will be double blind peer reviewed
- Unprecedented international reach: SAGE is the world's leading independent academic publisher.

SAGE proudly retains a culture that puts quality and individual relationships first. Your article will have global reach through SAGE's principal offices in Los Angeles, London, New Delhi and Singapore.
